rehabilitation, hospitalization, adjusted compensation and Americanization. We're going to fight to a finish for adjusted compensation, and we'll win it, too. I will give everything I have to this service."

Commander Owsley's closest competitor for the highest office of the Legion was William F. Deegan, past commander of the New York State Department. Immediately after the ancouncement of the results of the election Mr. Deegan moved that it be made unanimous, and Joseph Thompon, the third candidate, seconded the action.

in all his undertakings. He will find me willing and ready to fight in behalf of any hospitalization program for the disabled veterans and for the adjusted ompensation."

The new vice-commanders are E. J. Sarrett, of Wisconsin; F. Blood, of New Hampshire; Charles P. Plummer, of Wyoming; Earl Cooke, of Georgia, and Watson B. Miller, of Washington,

Father William B. O'Connor, of Ohio, was the unanimous choice for national chaplain on the fourth ballot.
The American Legion Auxiliary also conducted its convention on Friday, with the election of Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, Va., as its chief. Other features of the final day's ses-on were addresses by the delegates of the seven Allied countries. At their conclusion a resolution pledging friendship between the Allied veterans and the members of the Legion, which was adopted by the organization, was elected for the coming year: Charles Pops Caldwell, of Forest Hills, presi-dent; Theodore H. Skinner, of Ken-sood, first vice-president; Francis E. mczak, of Buffalo, second vice-sident; William E. Flanders, of wood, secretary, and Samuel Lloyd,

A budget calling for an expenditure of $72,060 for the ensuing year was also authorized by the board. The construction work already under way will cost $20,000 more.

It is the announced policy of the camp to pay operating and building expenses out of new funds in order that they may build up sufficient sums to erect a first class sanitarium and at the same time accumulate an endowerect a first class sanitarium and at the same time accumulate an endowment fund which will insure its successful maintenance. The officials hope to get at least $100 from each Legion post, and believe that this, added to what they expect from the auxiliaries and other organizations assisting them, will cover their expenses for this year and add materially to the endowment and building funds.

Mr. Caldwell announces that already there are more applications for ad-of the post, to be given December 2 at the Albemarle Palace. A contest headquarters has been opened by the Legionnaires at 1219 Flatbush Avenue, where the prizes and pictures of the various contestants are on display, and members of the post are there to give members of the post are there to give information and distribute the votes.

$50,000,000 Worth of Construction Remains To Be Finished Here; Plenty of Second-Hand Material

Excavating work in rather unusual lume for this time of the year foreells an active demand for basic building materials long before the usual Service Daily Building Reports.

It sometimes happens that a sporadic Brooklyn and Bronx at this time of the year, mostly for habitation build-ings. This autumn, however, is devel-oping a volume of excavating work on a scale so great as to be keeping prac-tically all the demolitation contractically all the demolitation contrac-tors active and, incidentally throwing tors active and, incidentally throwing upon the market a much larger volume of second hand building material than it has usually been called upon to absorb with winter still to come. Even Manhattan excavating contractors say they are figuring and taking contracts on an exceptionally large number of fair sized projects.

Construction records for the letter

Manhattan excavating contractors say they are figuring and taking contracts on an exceptionally large number of fair sized projects.

Construction records for the latter half of 1922 show a stupendous volume of building work projected as represented by plan filings throughout the country, but which has not yet manifested itself in the volume of building materials consumed.

fested itself in the volume of building materials consumed.

In New York City this total is estimated by financiers at about $50,000,000 worth of building construction back log, still due to go ahead to completion, but which, because of rail and fuel disruptions of manufacturing schedules, has not progressed because materials in sufficient quantity could not be guaranteed delivery on time. The total for the country east of the Rockies is considered to be somewhat around $325,000,000.

That at least 200,000 New Yorkers will on October 27, "Navy Day," be wearing medals with the profile of one of Uncle Sam's "gobs" in bas-relief thereon, is the hope of the National Navy Club of New York, according to a letter sent to clubs and business houses yesterday by Franklin D. Real Estate Board Will Be Put Into Operation in All U. S. Departments

At a meeting of the officers of the National Association of Building Owners' and Managers' held last August, the first vice-president, Lec T. Smith, a member of the executive committee of the Building Managers' and Owners' Association of New York was directed to consult with Colone C. V. von dem Bussche, executive chairman of the Federal Real Estate Board at Washington, with a view of determining a satisfactory method lished between the Federal board and the national association, which might lead to the adoption of a standard lease form for the government to use the renting of property.

For some time past the present lease form has been very unsatisfactory and has worked to the disadvantage of both the owner and the one year period being espectory and has worked to the disadvantage of both the owner and the several departments can have a point of contact and be able to profit by the needs and requirements of each other.

This organization has been formes along strict business lines. The president appointed a chief co-ordinator and charged him, under the direction of the Bureau of that it should be left to the localities whose expenditures had increased less than those of either the state or the nation. He, however, favored a closer watch on the extension of the credit of cities, saying that all should adopt the pay-as-you-go policy.
